

European manufacturer of high-quality plastic components & molds

Every innovation begins with an impulse

Impuls 97

Impuls 97 Ltd. is a European manufacturer with over 20 years of experience in plastic injection molding and in-house mold design and manufacturing.

Founded in 1990, the company combines precision engineering, modern technology, and strict quality control to deliver reliable and cost-efficient solutions.

We currently serve clients across Europe in industries such as winter sports (ski components) and cosmetics, while our expertise allows us to expand into automotive, electronics, consumer goods, and industrial machinery.

With an integrated process — from design and prototyping to tooling, molding, assembly, and finishing — Impuls 97 offers flexibility, short lead times, and tailor-made solutions. Our team of skilled engineers and technicians ensures innovation, precision, and long-term value for every project.
